as Lawgiver The part of the Holy Spirit that is most profoundly and consistently revealed in the Word is the dynamism of the Holy Spirit. In this passage, the Spirit is the emissary who sends forth the law or the principle of the law to the nation (vv. 5-18). In this dynamic, revolutionary, and restorative function, the Spirit empowers us to live as disciples (v. 18) and as law-abiding citizens (v. 19). He empowers us to imitate him by obeying his Word, which we embrace by faith (v. 20). He empowers us to love him by understanding his love (v. 22). As the Spirit empowers the Savior's disciples, he gives them a "mind" to understand what Scripture teaches (v. 28). This mind is the mind of "the law" of God, which all people are to be "doers" and "understanders" of (v. 29). Continuing His Conversation with the Nation (vv. 19-21) 19Then some Pharisees approached him to test him. "Teacher," they said, "we know you are a man of integrity. You aren't swayed by people; you aren't dishonest. You don't look for a bribe because you have decided to give everything to God." 20So Jesus replied, "You experts in the law—woe to you, because you load people down with burdens they can't carry. You yourselves will testify that the Jesus is the one I told you about. Take my word for it—it's the Lord's work if anyone accepts it. 21" And now, for a change, I ask you: Who is my equal? Am I superior to anyone in this nation? Don't we see that everyone needs God's help? And he gave them help. In fact, hasn't the exact pattern of God's kindness appeared in this nation? Prophets of Old Beatified Him (v. 22) 22The Christ—about whom some of the Sadducees in the Jerusalem Temple keep saying, 'How can the Christ fit into this place? He was raised from the dead!' " That's Jesus' favorite question: "How can _X_ fit into this place?" _X_ can be a person, a building, a game, a way of worship, a concept, a point of view, or, in the case at hand,
