They are the traditional horse-drawn floats on which simple fresh food is sold. The origins of the calèche go back over a thousand years. Originally they were used by the sick, the wounded and the elderly. But now they are part of the landscape and treetop restaurants in which the region is renowned throughout France. We are almost certain you have already found a yearning to visit France, but you might want to bookmark this page for when you are next planning your holiday. Cévennes is part of the Massif Central and, as you might have guessed, France is pretty mountainous. The other cool thing about this region is that it is really green. The forests are so dense that even in summer when there isn't much foliage you can still see the blue sky. There is a theme park called Moutiers-la-Joûte on the outskirts of Mont de Marsan. This is where the Calèche Racaille is based. For anyone who likes a little history, this is where you're going to find it! You don't need a licence or anything and you can walk in and see how it is done, so it's a good place to start if you are planning your own riding experience. The French celebrate Bastille Day on 14 July, just like we do. The People's Republic of China celebrates National Day on 1 October. It's the same date, the same origin, but with a different flag, different music and the people are not so patriotic, so it's a very different occasion. Also, like the UK, France used to have a monarchy but then was overthrown by the Revolutionary forces of 1789. Menin Gate was immortalized in Alan Moore's graphic novel series 'From Hell'. It has to be one of the most 6d1f23a050
